

Visual Novel – Clearvision - Inhaltsangabe

Konzeption

Nach einem Unfall wacht der Protagonist nach einem Monat plötzlich aus seinem Koma auf. Der Spieler übernimmt die Rolle dieser Person, nachdem dieser entlassen wurde und er komische Ereignisse beginnt wahrzunehmen. Träume beginnen ihn heimzusuchen welche der Spieler Optionen hat diese zu beeinflussen. Wird der Protagonist in der Lage sein diese Eigenheit zu identifizieren? Ist es wichtig solche Ereignisse zu verfolgen? Kann der Protagonist herausfinden was wirklich geschehen ist oder wird dieser Aufwand eine negative Wendung finden?

Das nimmt sich Inspirationen aus den Geschichten von Call of Duty Black Ops 3 und Doki Doki Literature Club und verschmilzt diese Inspiration ebenfalls in seinem Alleinstellungsmerkmal, den nächtlichen Traumsequenzen ab. Spieler müssen hier kleine Geschehnisse aus dem Tag wiedergeben, welche sie für wichtig halten, um Punkte für Enden zu erhalten. Neben den Punktebeschränkungen dienen ebenfalls Ja-Nein Auswahlmöglichkeiten zur Bestimmung des Endes, von denen es 4 an der Zahl gibt (technisch gesehen gibt es 5 aber das 5te ist nur erreichbar, wenn etwas im Spiel etwas verbuggt, übersprungen wurde oder ein savefile editiert wurde).

Chapter 1 - The Accident: Die Grundlage der Story und der Auslöser werden erklärt

Chapter 2 - Daily Life: Der MC versucht in sein normales Leben zurückzukehren

Chapter 3 – Oddities: Der MC bemerkt komische Ereignisse

Chapter 4 - A enlightening trip: Der MC und seine Freunde verbringen eine schöne Zeit miteinander

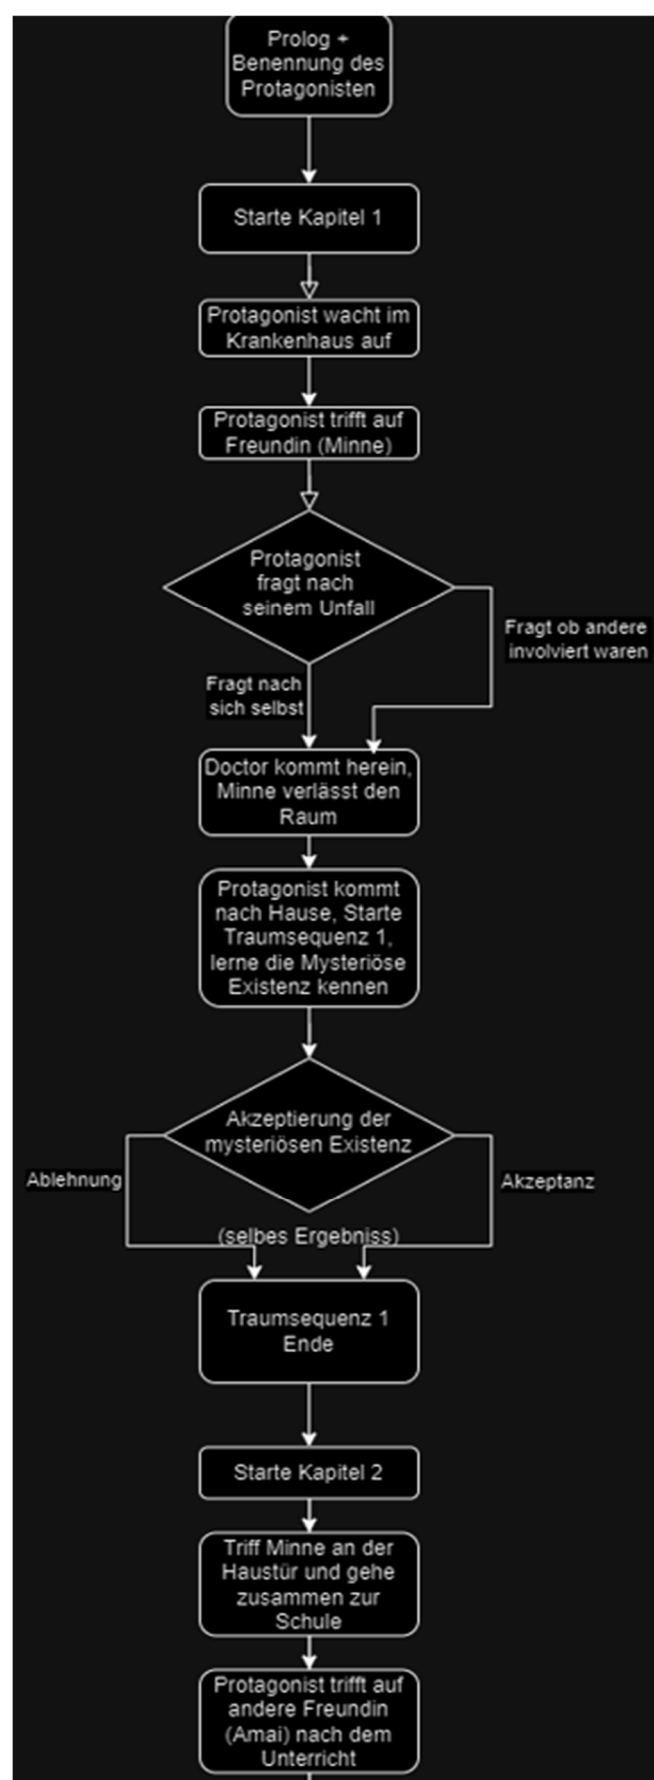

Chapter 5 – Searching:

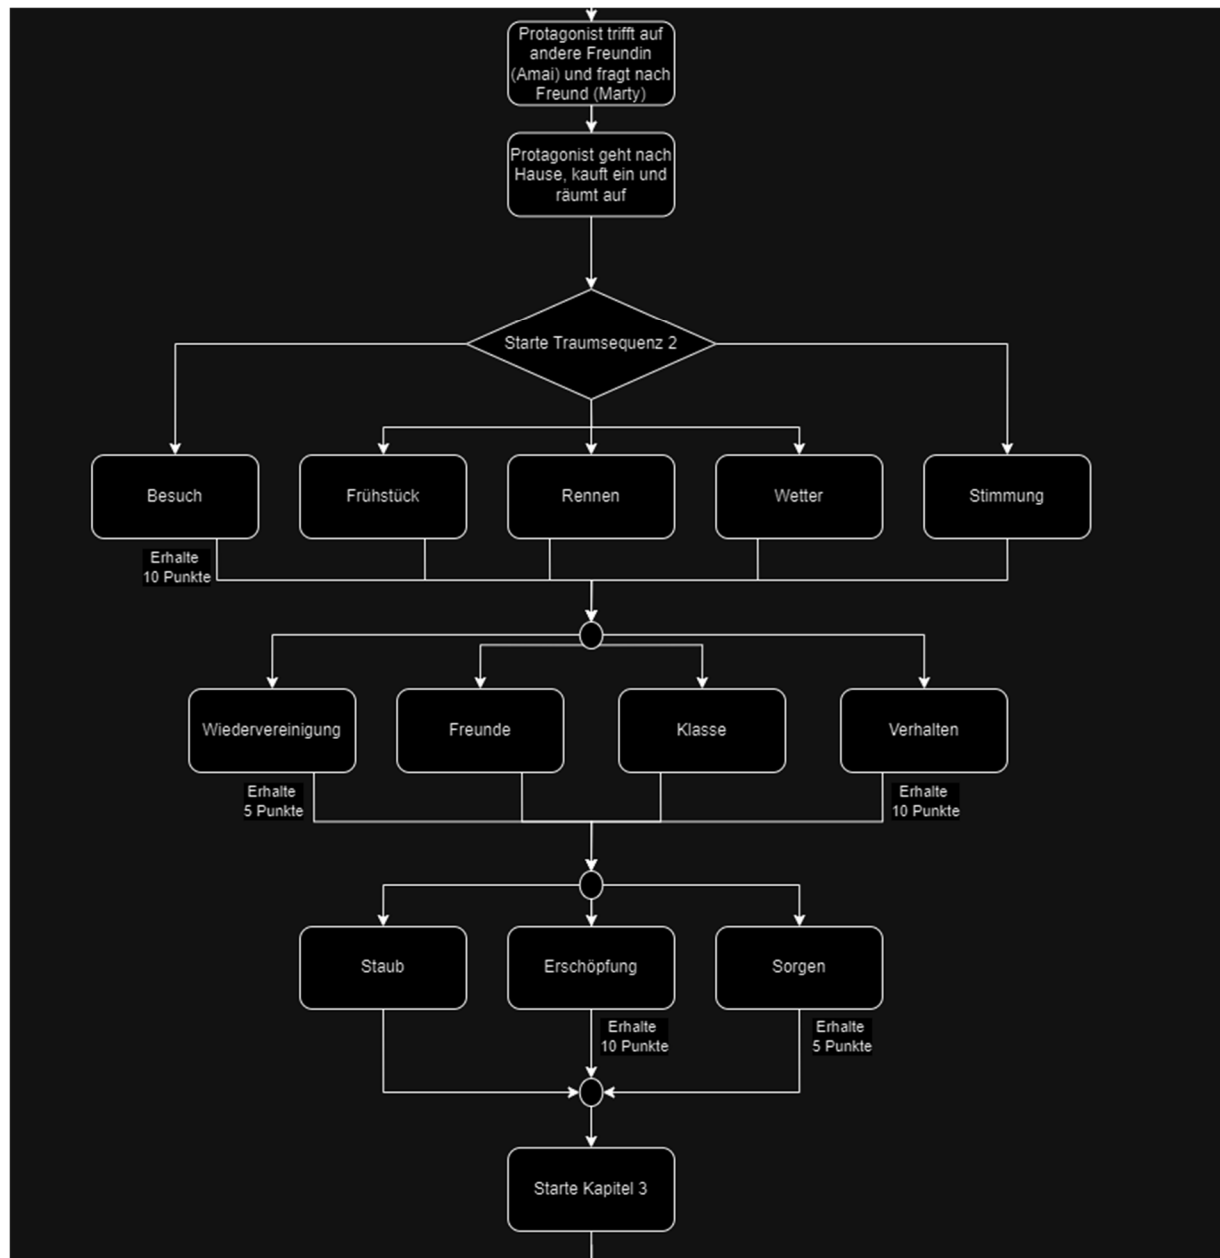

Chapter 6 - Crashing down: MC entscheidet der Sache auf den Grund zu gehen oder damit zu leben (je nach Entscheidung und score)

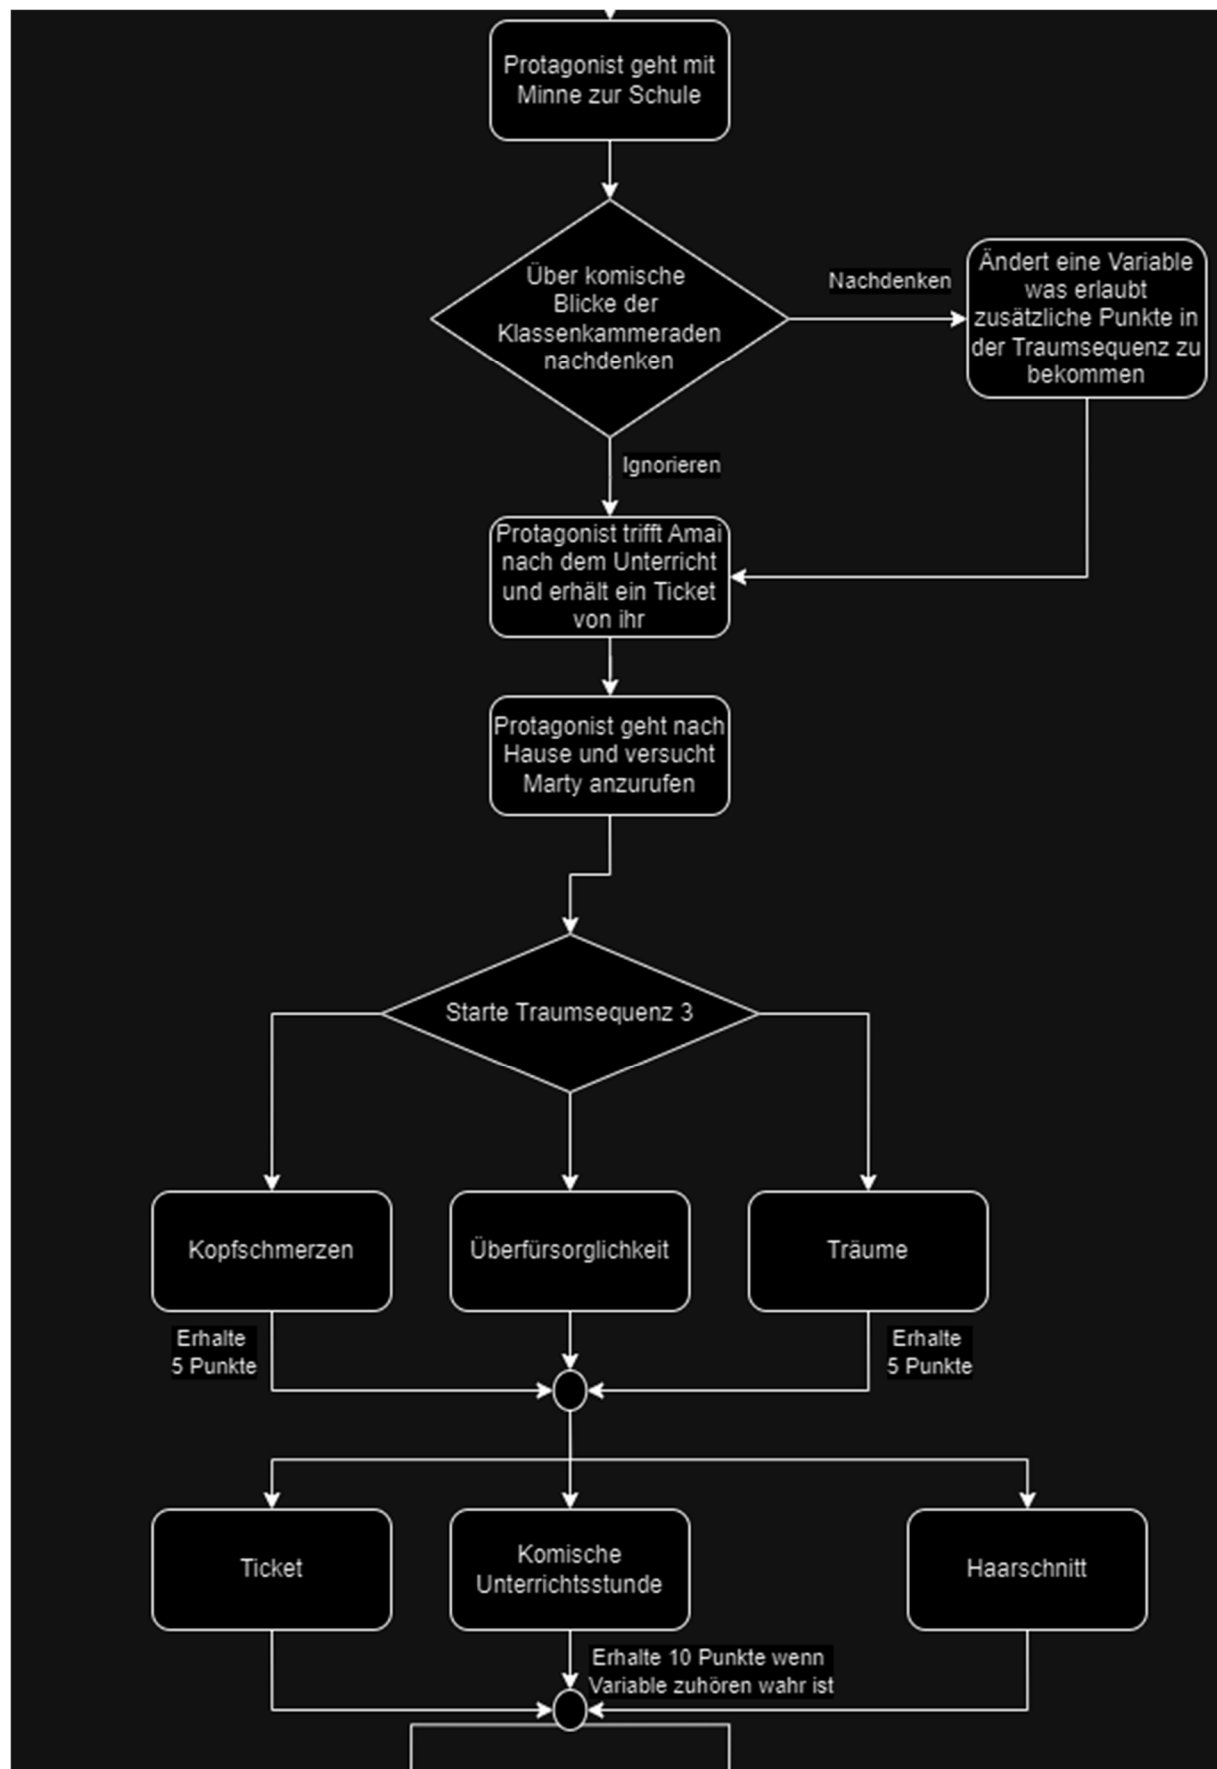

Chapter 7 - Moving foreward: MC lernt was passiert ist oder...

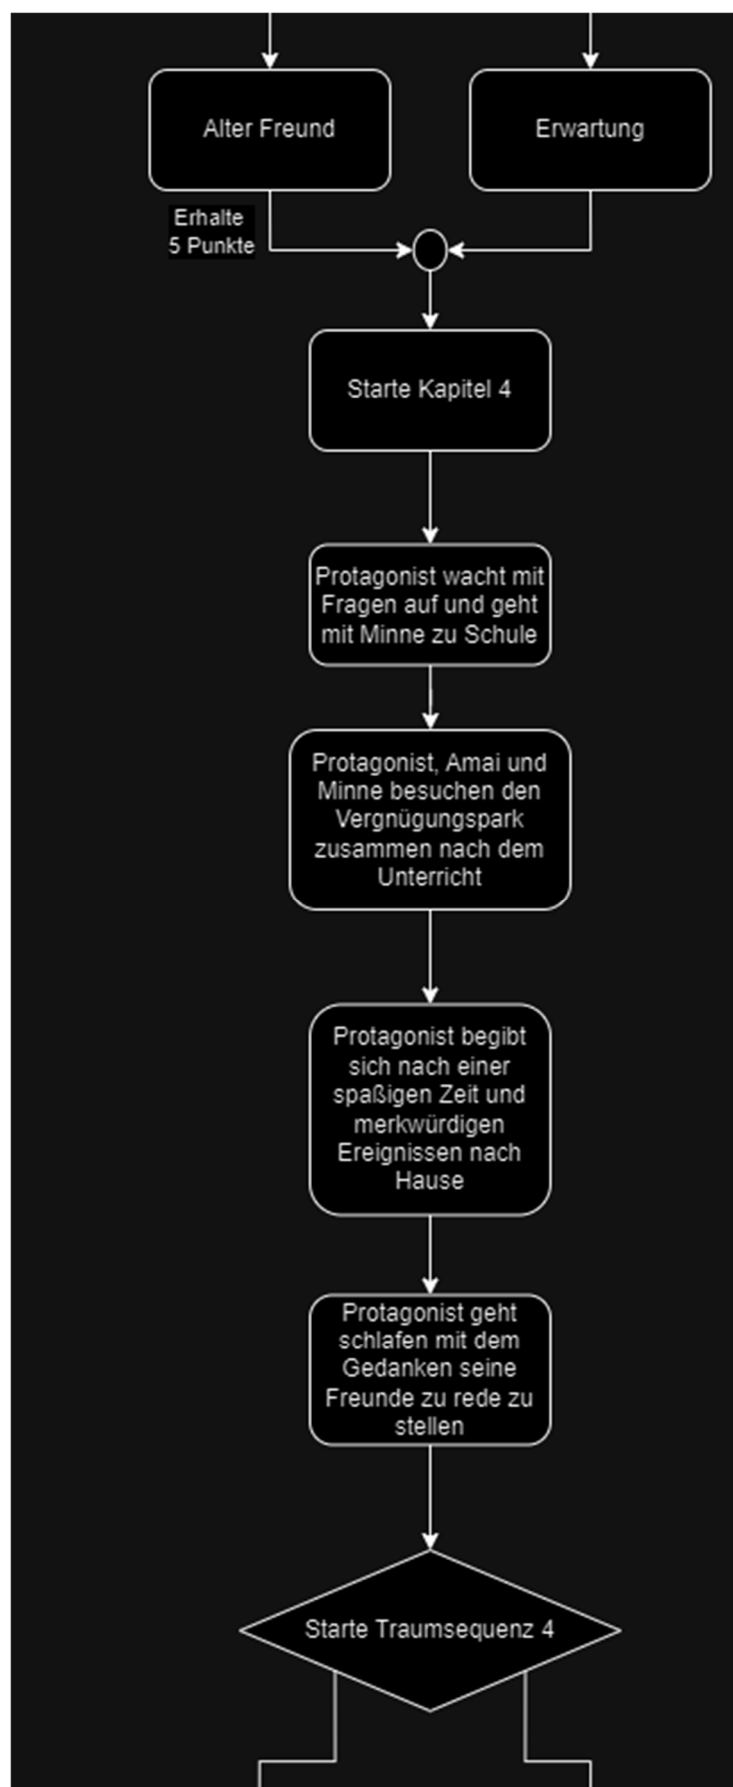

Ending: Zeigt das erreichte Ende

Chapter 1:

Scene 1 – Evening - Dreamspace

The game:

I sense ... A presence...

You must be a new player. It has been ages since my creator actually showed his face around here, so I thought I was doomed to corrupt in this repository forever. Ah well, since I'm programmed this way and I can't go against it. I might as well fulfill my role. What do you want to call the protagonist of this story?

--Enter the protagonist's name--

The game:

Interesting. Very Interesting. Very well, time for me to take a backseat now.

Now then, enjoy the story.....I guess.

Scene 2 – Evening – Hospital room

Protagonist:

...

...

It's so dark.

...

My head hurts.

Protagonist begins opening his eyes and begins looking around the room he's in

Is this... A hospital room? Why am I-

???:

Oh thank god, you managed to wake up! You were unconscious for a month. I was starting to get truly concerned.

Protagonist notices the voice comes from his close friend Minne

Protagonist:

Wait what? ...why was I...

Minne:

Take it easy, you've just woken up after all.

Protagonist:

...ok.

Protagonist regains full control of his eyesight and consciousness again

Minne:

Feeling better now?

Protagonist:

Yeah.

Minne:

I'm sure you're still very confused, so let me give you a quick rundown. You were ... involved in a major traffic accident.

Protagonist:

!!!

Minne:

I don't know the full details, but it seems you and a couple of others fell victim to a drunk truck driver.

Choice 1: (Protagonist asks about the other involved)

Protagonist:

You mentioned that others were also involved in the same accident?

Minne:

Yes, in total four people including you got injured. One of them was also quite close to you.

Protagonist:

Quite close?

Minne:

Ah it's nothing, you don't have to worry about that.

Choice 2: (Protagonist asks why he himself was there)

Protagonist:

You mentioned that others were also involved in the same accident?

Minne:

From what you told me beforehand, you said you needed to get groceries. That's the only thing I remember though.

Protagonist:

Damn, I can't remember a clearly.

--Nurse enters the room--

Nurse:

Excuse me, but visiting hours are over no- THE PATIENT HAS FINALLY REGAINED CONSCIOUSNESS!! I need to inform the doctor immediately!

--Nurse exits the room--

Minne:

Oh. Seems I completely forgot to mention to the staff that you've woken up.

Protagonist:

An airhead as always.

Minne:

On that note, I should probably leave now. Visit times seem to be up and I'm sure you still need some rest. Take care.

Protagonist:

Bye bye.

--Minne leaves the room--

...

Why would I need rest when I was stuck in a bed for a month

--Nurse and doctor enter the room--

Doctor:

Ah, she was right. You are awake. Now don't worry, I just need to make sure your body functions normally. Best case scenario, you can go home by tomorrow.

--Protagonist begins to sleep after medical exam--

--Protagonist enters a dream--

Protagonist:

...

...?

Where am I?

???:

It's the world of your thoughts. Or rather, your dreams.

Protagonist:

My... dreams...?

???:

Indeed. But coming tot he real matter at hand. How about you indulge me in inhabiting your thoughts a little?

Choice 1: (Protagonist agrees)

???:

Hmmmm. I see. Many things have been happening to you my friend.

Protagonist:

I'm not your friend.

???:

Out cold for a month and that with 3 more people too. Aren't you curious?

Choice 1: (Curious)

???:

Four were in a crash, but only you were here. Did the others get better fast or not? Remember, it's in the little things. Farewell for now then.

Choice 2: (Not Curious)

???:

Very well. However, always remember. Time waits for no one.

Choice 2: (Protagonist declines)

???:

That so. Well, you don't get a choice in this anyways. I will take my leave for today. I'll see you tomorrow.

--Dream ends--

Chapter 2:

Scene 1 – Morning – Home

--The protagonist wakes up after a bizarre dream --

Protagonist:

It's a nice day outside. Birds are singing, flowers are blooming. Perfect weather to go back to school... ugh.

--The protagonist eats breakfast and notices Minne at his doorstep --

Minne:

Good morning, Protagonist.

Protagonist:

Ehm, good morning to you too, Minne.

Minne:

Is something the matter? You seem confused.

Protagonist:

No, I'm fine. It's just that my house is not on your way to school now is it?

Minne:

Ehehehe... --Minne becomes slightly flustered--

Geee, I came here worried that your body might not be at it's fullest, but looks like I was worried for nothing.

Protagonist:

I wouldn't say I'm over it but I feel perfectly fine.

Minne:

In that case, let's race tot he school. Last one there is a rotten egg.

Protagonist:

Oi, I didn't mean- Ugh whatever, you're on.

--Minne and the protagonist run to school—

Scene 2 – Afternoon – School

--After a boring class the protagonist decides to go home earlybut runs into his friends Minne and Amai--

Minne:

Hey, looks like the rotten egg is deciding to go home early.

Amai:

Look at who decided to finally come back to the living.

Protagonist:

Yes, it's nice to see you both too. While I got you two here, let me ask. Did either of you see Marty around? I haven't seen him all day, so I thought you two might know something.

Minne:

...

Amai:

...

Minne:

About that, he-

Amai:

H-He's just went home earlier than usual. What an narrowmind, it's not like he could've given us a heads up. Then again, that meathead never thought ahead anyways.

Minne:

Wasn't that your role?

Amai:

H-Huh, what are you talking about?!

Minne:

You two always hung out together whenever we saw you before, so it's natural to think that.

Amai:

Shut up, we didn't do that all the time.

--after some time--

Protagonist:

Now then, I should get going.

Minne:

Alright, let me accompany you.

Protagonist:

She is still worried huh. Ok, sure thing. Although I have to say, I'm feeling way less exhausted than usual.

Minne:

Heh, now you're imagining things.

--The protagonist and Minne walk home together--

Scene 3 – Evening – Home

Protagonist:

Alright, see you tomorrow.

Minne:

Have a good rest.

--Minne leaves and the protagonist cleans his house and goes to sleep afterwards--

Scene 4 – Night – Dream

???:

So, we meet again already.

Protagonist:

!!

???:

Now now, no need for hostility. I'm a fabrication which is born from your mind. You can't hurt me anyway, so it's pointless. But now to business. Tell me, how would you describe the day.

--The protagonist retells his events of the day--

???:

So that's how it is.

Outcome 1: (Protagonist gains a score greater than or 20)

???:

Quite pleasing.

Outcome 2: (Protagonist gains a score fewer than 20)

???:

Quite... unremarkable...

???:

One shall not avert their eyes looking for the path. Now then. Sleep well.

--Dream ends--

Chapter 3:

Scene 1 – Morning – Home

Protagonist:

... Why is it repeating itself? Aren't dreams pretty rare in the first place? On top of that it's a continuous one as well.

--After the protagonist ponders his dreams he is once again greeted by Minne--

Minne:

Good morning Protagonist.

Protagonist:

Here again huh?

Minne:

Aww come oooooon, don't make it sound like it's a bad thing.

Protagonist:

Still, I don't think you need to show up EVERY morning now do you?

Minne:

Maybe not, however I'm still concerned about your health. The doctors may have told you you're fine but I'm still not convinced.

Protagonist:

Geez, with this amount of thoughtfulness you could rival my mother if she was still around.

Minne:

C'mon, don't make jokes about that, I'm serious here!

Protagonist:

Ok, ok sorry.

Minne:

Ok now that you're with me again we can go to school now can we?

--Minne and the protagonist walk to school--

Scene 2 – Afternoon – School

Male teacher:

... and that's why when Izanagi gazed upon his wife in yomi he ...

Protagonist:

... Ugh, why did he start rambeling about the japanese gods of creation. We got it you love mythology, but this is an economics class ...? Are some of my classmates gazing at me funny?

Choice 1: (Think about why, enables a dream option to give points)

Protagonist:

Ok, now hold on. I know I've been abscent for some time bu there is something else. Their gazes feel off. Like I'm ... not supposed to be here. Very strange. Could it be that I look that different from before? ... I should get a haircut.

Choice 2: (Ignore them)

--After class--

Protagonist:

Man that teacher really needs to keep his hobbies private. Ok. Time to look for my friends.

--Protagonist meets with Amai--

Protagonist:

Hey Amai what's up? Is Minne not with you today?

Amai:

Oh hey it's the zombie.

Protagonist:

Please don't tell me you're gonna make these nicknames commonplace.

Amai:

I can still say worse things you idiot, you got that?

Protagonist:

Yeah yeah, I got it.

Amai:

Anyways, Minne said she still has some things to take care of so she left early.

Protagonist:

People always place such high expectations on her. She should really get herself a break sometime. She even started coming over to my house to walkt o school each morning since I got out.

Amai:

...considering your bodily reactions I should be the one doing that...

Protagonist:

What was that?

Amai:

Nothing you moron! --Amai makes a grimace--

I almost don't wanna do this anymore but here.

--Amai hands the protagonist a festival ticket--

Amai:

As a way to properly celebrate you getting out of the hospital you know.

Protagonist:

Oh wow. Thank you very much. I gotta ask though, was this your idea?

Amai:

Why would you ask that?

Protagonist:

You didn't seem the type to host these kind of events before. Unless it was for him that is.

Amai:

Oh shut it you! It's not like I do this exclusively for you you know. I talked this over with Minne, so don't think anything special because of it. OK!

--Amai storms off--

Protagonist:

... Maybe I'm just thinking about all of this too much. Unusual or now, a surprise is a surprise. And it was definitely a positive one.

--The protagonist pockets the ticket and goes home--

Scene 3 – Evening – Home

--The protagonist tries to phone Marty (the friend) but no one answers--

Protagonist:

Strange, even when he was ill before he always had time to answer. Damn, if only I had a number of some relative.

--The Protagonist goes to sleep and enters a dream--

Scene 4 – Night – Dream

???:

Your favorite haunting voice is back. Just like the last times I'm gonna need some insights. Let me into your life.

--The protagonist retells his events of the day--

???:

I see...

Outcome 1: (Protagonist gains a score greater than 7)

???:

I am most impressed. Your finding shall lead you to the origin.

Outcome 2: (Protagonist gains a score fewer than 7)

???:

You seem to be making progress. But a word of advice. You should pay a bit more attention on the things happening around you.

???:

That may give too much away though. Do with these informations as you please. Hope you can remember these interactions better outside of your subconsciousness soon.

--Dream ends--

Chapter 4:

Scene 1 – Morning – Home

Protagonist:

Something definitely happened to my brain when I was unconcious. But what can even happen to ones brain when it is in a comatose state? I should inform myself about this stuff this evening. Gotta make myself ready now.

Alrighty. 3... 2... 1... aaand.

Minne:

Top oft he morning to ya lad.

Protagonist:

Aye, good morning to you too.

--The protagonist got used tot he visits and just walked to school with Minne--

Scene2 – Afternoon – Festival

--since school didn't have anything interesting that day the protagonist and his friends went straight to the local festival and go on some rides and take a break afterwards--

Minne:

Haha, you should've seen your face Amai.

Amai:

Oh shut it you, you know I'm not good with that stuff.

Protagonist:

How about you cling to her arm next time around, yeah?

Amai:

Uuuuu, don't remind me you idiot.

--the three take place at a table--

Minne:

Alright. I'm gonna get studd for everyone. Any wishes?

Protagonist:

Cotton ca-, wait no a cr pe please.

Amai:

Caramelised almonds for me!

Minne:

Okay. I'll be right back

--Minne leaves to get food--

Protagonist:

You know I was a little sceptical about this at first but I feel suprisingly refreshed. Plus it was fun. Thank you for organizing it Amai.

Amai:

I told you don't mention it. ...but. You're welcome.

Protagonist:

Come to think o fit, why was I about to say I want cotton candy? I hated that stuff ever since that birthday fiasco 8 years ago. However it was always the favorite sweet of him. Just what is going on.

--Minne comes back with the food--

Minne:

Hey, stay with us today. No spacing out allowed. We still have a whole lot of fun waiting for us at the end of the road.

Protagonist:

Was I really giving off that impression?

Minne:

Of course! You haven't even noticed that Amai has-

--Amai springs up and covers Minne's mouth--

Amai:

Oh I really thank you for getting this for us. I was really starving, so let's all sit down and enjoy our stuff.

Protagonist:

...but you were the one getting up.

Amai:

What was that?

Protagonist:

Nothing!

--The three enjoy the food and some more time at the festival before going home--

Scene 3 – Evening – Home

Protagonist:

Right. Now time to research.

--The protagonist informs himself about the workings of dreams--

Protagonist:

Ok, I was right on the money when it comes to the repeating dreams. These habit changes though... It says these mostly happen this sudden only in cases with brain tumors or severe head trauma. From what I can remember the doctor saying though, both of these were not mentioned in my case. Something definitely happened though.

...

Looks like there is some questioning in order tomorrow. For now I'll go to sleep though.

--The Protagonist goes to sleep and enters a dream--

Scene 4 – Night – Dream

???:

Hmm, I can tell even without you telling me things that today was a good day for you. Even without contact to everything you experienced some feelings that even managed to reach me. Or maybe I'm just more and more becoming a part of you. He he he~ Well regardless, you know what I wanna hear.

--The protagonist retells his events of the day--

???:

Looks like you had quite the good time today.

Outcome 1: (Protagonist gains a score greater than 12)

???:

Well well well. Even though you have the options of ignorance you stray from it and move towards the knowledge hidden in the dark.

Outcome 2: (Protagonist gains a score fewer than 12)

???:

Very well then. I'll let you off with just this today.

???:

One way or another you should be aware of your actions. What you think and do is not just a concern for yourself anymore. Will you accidentally cause actions with recoil strong enough that it might destroy what you have left? Maybe your subconsciousness is already getting affected through me? Hehe~. Let's see how time plays out.

--Dream ends--

Chapter 5:

Scene 1 – Morning – Home

Protagonist:

Looks like it's clouding over for the day. Anyways, gotta be sure to ask them about some stuff today.

--Minne shows up again--

Minne:

Gooooood morniiiiing.

Protagonist:

...morning.

Minne:

Hmmm? You seem down. Everything alright?

Protagonist:

Ah no it's nothing. Let's just go to school.

Minne:

Huh, ok then, Let's go.

--Minne and the protagonist walk to school with a tension in the air--

Scene 2 – Afternoon – School

--After classes--

Protagonist:

Ok, time to look for them.

--protagonist fetches both girls--

Minne:

So, why did you need to get the both of us?

Amai:

He's probably just gonna tell us he became part of some moron movement.

Protagonist:

Like hell I'll do that. Ok, for real though I've noticed some strange things lately.

Minne:

Strange how?

Protagonist:

Ok first off there are the facts that I suddenly don't feel much fatigue anymore. I wasn't particularly fit or athletic beforehand, so I shouldn't be able to feel this fit after a one month comatose state. Also, from the things I do remember, Amai was never this much around me.

Amai:

W-What are you talking about. We were always close you moron.

Protagonist:

Not quite. We were always a bit more distant. Especially after you and Marty started going out. It feels like you're using his absence to get close to me or something around that.

Amai:

!!

Protagonist:

Which brings me to my next point. I know he isn't here due to some absence/illness, whatever it's not important. Important is that when I tried to call his home no one picked up. Since I know him like my back pocket I just know something is up. And my gut is telling me you two know something.

Minne:

...

Protagonist:

Just quit it with the silence. I know you two know something! Amai, you especially you should be gushing and fawning over him like you usually do. If anything you should-

--Amai slaps the protagonist--

Amai:

Shut up! What the hell do you know. You're the worst.

--Amai leaves--

Protagonist:

...

Minne:

You got your sanity back?

Protagonist:

Yeah, looks like I got a bit too worked up there.

Minne:

Well that and...

Protagonist:

?

Minne:

Any other things you noticed then?

--Game check if the player aquired a score grater than 40--

Outcome 1: (Points are enough)

Protagonist:

Well, there were some other things. The way others were looking at me. It was a familiar yet confused look. I looked perfectly normal in the mirror though.

Minne:

I see... For now let me just say this. You are still yourself but also you appear not to be.

--game sets variable truthseeing to true--

Outcome 2: (Points are insufficient)

Protagonist:

... Not for now.

Minne:

I see... I understand where you're coming from though.

Minne:

You will have many questions i'm sure but today is a bit difficult to talk about it. Now I have to get going.

--Minne leaves--

Protagonist:

I feel like I kinda messed up.

--protagonist goes home--

Scene 3 – Evening – Home

Protagonist:

Of course it suddenly had to start raining. Ok, tomorrow I might actually get some answers. Do I really want to though... Ignorance is bliss as they say. Argh... I should sleep now.

--The protagonist goes to sleep and enters a dream--

Scene 4 – Night – Dream

???:

Just as I suspected. The ripples seem to already make waves. Well then, you know the drill.

--The protagonist retells his events of the day--

???:

Once again I appreciate your input.

Outcome 1: (Protagonist gains a score greater than 12)

???:

It's not far now. You are doing very well.

Outcome 2: (Protagonist gains a score fewer than 12)

???:

Huh. Oh well.

???:

It's getting close now. Soon you will be ready for a real eye opener. Can your- or rather our fragile mind take it? The future is the means by which all is reveal.

--dream ends--

Chapter 6:

Scene 1 – Morning – Home

Protagonist:

... It's cloudy today. Gonna make myself some meatballs later

--Minne shows up again and you walk to school--

Scene 2 – Afternoon – School

--After class in the hallway--

Protagonist:

Ok before everything, do you know why Amai wasn't at school today?

Minne:

I think she is just not in the best state of mind to look at you.

Protagonist:

I didn't think it'd be that bad but I'll apologize later.

Minne:

That would be for the best.

Protagonist:

Now then for the topic at hand.

Minne:

I did promise you the day before after all.

--Game checks if the player gatered at least 60 points and has the variable truthseeing on true--

Outcome 1: (Conditions met)

Minne:

Okay, let's get this over with then. That said. Give me a minute.

--Minne makes a phonecall--

Minne:

Alright, you with me?

Protagonist:

Here as I'll ever be.

Minne:

Ok then. To start things off, you are right. There is something unusual going on around, or rather with you.

Protagonist:

What do you mean by that?

Minne:

What if I told you you really aren't yourself anymore. That you've gone through a huge change without realising it.

Protagonist:

I kinda had a feeling but overall a change that huge would be impossible not to notice. But here I am, having found out practically nothing.

Minne:

The call I made just now was with the hospital you are staying at. Once we've gone there again every question should be answered.

Protagonist:

Alright, so let's go.

Minne:

Appointments don't work THAT fast you know. Wait for tomorrow, ok?

Protagonist:

...fine.

Minne:

Just remember, deep down your always you. Ok?

Protagonist:

Always!

Minne:

Well thats relieving to hear. But for now I got some work left to do. Cya tomorrow you dunderhead~

--Minne leaves, protagonist goes home and to sleep instantly--

Scene 3 – Night – Dream

???:

One more day. Just one more day. Then this will all find it's end. I'll let you go question free this time. Enjoy your rest for today.

--Dream ends--

Outcome 2: (Conditions not met)

Minne:

... Is this really what you want though? I did notice you questioning your current circumstances. However what's so wrong with enjoying your life as it is at the moment.

Choice 1: (Accept the situation)

Protagonist:

Uhm... alright. I'll give it a rest.

Minne:

It hasn't been that different and i'm sure you will get used to it in time. Glad to see you are also seeing it that way. Now come, there is a limited time offer down at the downtown flea market.

Protagonist:

You never change do you?

Minne:

Let's grab Amai and go check it out. Come on, it's the ideal moment so hurry up!

Protagonist:

Well, let's see who will get the best deal. The loser has to pay for dinner.

Minne:

Hmmmhm, you're on!

--Plays ending 1--

Choice 2: (Reject the situation)

Protagonist:

I'm sorry but I can't let this go.

Minne:

You know what? After thinking about it some more I refuse! Everything seemed so fine these last couple of days. I'm not letting this get ruined.

Protagonist:

B-but you said you would-

Minne:

No I've changed my mind.

Protagonist:

... Alright fine. If you wont help me I will find this out on my own!

Minne:

Hey let's just-

Protagonist:

Leave me be, you've already done enough for today.

--Plays ending 2--

Chapter 7:

Scene 1 – Morning – Home

Protagonist:

I feel like whatever was happening in my dreams was somehow pushing me to do this stuff. Now then, no time to waste.

--The protagonist and Minne go to school--

Scene 2 – Afternoon – School

--After class--

Protagonist:

Well it was fine, only one day can't be that bad.

Minne:

Wait till they bring up this class' stuff in the next test.

Protagonist:

... Now then, I believe you have to take the lead now.

Minne:

Yeah, i'm aware. However, we must wait till evening because during the day they would be too busy.

Protagonist:

Oh, really?

Minne:

Yeah. Until then, let's go and visit Amai. There are still thing you have to set right you know~

Protagonist:

Ah, thats true. Well, let's be off then.

--Minne and the protagonist visit Amai to kill time--

Scene 3 – Evening – Hospital

Minne:

I think I already know your answer but i will ask you one last time. Are you sure you want to know everything? You can still walk away from this you know?

Protagonist:

I've made my choice. I want to know what happened.

Minne:

Ok, then let's go in.

--Minne and the protagonist enter the hospital and a doctor leads them to an elevator--

Protagonist:

Hey Minne how are you so uninterested by this?

Minne:

I've been here a couple of times around the time the accident happened, so I got used to it.

Protagonist:

Ok gacha.

--the three of them enter the underground laboratory--

Protagonist:

What in the god damn. Why does a place like this exist below a hospital?

Doctor:

It is an experimental government research hospital. Due to the rapid advancements in technology the government tasked us to experiment with diverse complex operations regarding the human brain.

Protagonist:

The brain? Is it ok for you to tell me all this?

Doctor:

Technically not, however due to your friends persistence and some scientific curiosity I've decided to take responsibility for this. As long as the higher ups don't snoop around and you don't talk about this, this is pretty harmless. And if you do decide to talk we will sue you into oblivion.

Protagonist:

Ok, point made.

Doctor:

We're here.

--Minne, the protagonist and the doctor enter a room within the lab--

Doctor:

Alright. Now that we're here let's talk business. First off, your accident was much worse than you think. It was so bad that you had to spend the rest of your life hooked into machines while paralysed from the neck down.

Protagonist:

It was that bad?

Doctor:

We had to act fast since with the amount of damage to your organs you would've died within 4 days.

Protagonist:

So then how am I here perfectly healthy?

Doctor:

As you recall we specialise in the human brain. In order to keep you alive we had to transplant your brain and your consciousness into another body.

Protagonist:

W-what the- But that's impossible! When I looked into mirrors I looked like my normal old self!

Doctor:

That's because we overwrote some data in your brain so that it will always show you your own body upon seeing the new body.

Protagonist:

That at least explains how I was so fit after a month of just laying in bed. But overwriting brains? Isn't that dangerous?

Doctor:

It sure is. We still are not aware of the side effects it causes so we were hoping you would enlighten us.

Protagonist:

...! My dreams!

Doctor:

Your dreams?

--The protagonist explains his dreams tot he doctor--

Doctor:

I see. This might be a result of the leftover consciousness from the donor body.

Protagonist:

Come to think of it, who am I now physically speaking?

Doctor:

This might be better explained by your friend over here.

Minne:

You see... You remember that you were not the only one involved in the accident? After you, a couple of others were hit as well. And one of those victims became your body.

Protagonist:

This is quite something to take in...

Minne:

There's more. The other victims besides you all had fewer injuries than you, all except one. He received an injury to his head which was so severe ... that his brain clinically died. With his body receiving minor injuries and you on the brink of death, it was decided to implant you into his body.

Protagonist:

My head begins to hurt.

Minne:

The compatibility was good, so they went ahead with the operation immediately.

Protagonist:

Compatibility?

Minne:

It was that or death... Doctor, could you now pull up the file?

--The doctor retrieves a file shows it on a computer--

Protagonist:

Marty's file?!?

--The game checks if the player achieved score is exactly 80 (the max amount)--

Outcome 1: (Points are 80)

Protagonist:

Wha-What is this? But then all those dreams and my curiosity. Were they truly mine? Or were they...

Marty:

That's right. They were mine. Or rather a spectre of what you thought what was me. I'm the residue of his conscience. And now I've gotten you exactly where I want to have you. You see, I simply did not do this just to help you. We may be now one in body but in soul we are apart. Because of your subconsciousness, my attitude became more positive and my thought more blurred. But because you got so involved into uncovering the mystery you set me free. I'm dead now and I want my soul to rest. But that can't happen with this little piece of me which exists within you. So I'll simply make sure you never wake up. You won't die but you won't live either.

Protagonist:

So that means... !!!

Minne:

H-Hey what's going on? Are you feeling ok?"

Marty:

I'm sorry for being selfish but I never really was the clever one anyways. Sleep now my friend.

Protagonist:

A sharp pain is rushing through my head! N-nO... t-tHiS IsN-n't rEaL... ThIs-S iS nOtHiNg MoRe ThAn a b-BaD dReAM!! Everything becomes blurry.

Doctor:

Oh this isn't good, he is experiencing a dissonance of his brain with his body! If we don't move quickly his life will be in danger!

Minne:

N-No... not again...

Protagonist:

I can only hear the faint voices of " + characters.girl1.name + " and a doctor before I lose consciousness...

--Plays Ending 4--

Outcome 2: (Points are below 80)

Protagonist:

T-This is so much to take in at once...

Minne:

I can imagine. Now after knowing what happened, what will you do?

Protagonist:

Ughh I don't know quite yet. However I am sure of one thing. We are one now. In a way I'm now responsible for living two lives now.

Minne:

Are you sure this is how you want this to be? You have this burden forced upon you with no say in the matter and you still want to go down this path?

Protagonist:

This will be hard in many ways, but I think that's what made me compatible with him. Even so I believe this is the right choice.

Minne:

Sigh Very well, me and Amai will try to ease it in any way we can. We are one group after all.

Protagonist:

I'd appreciate that... Does this mean she was only so nice cause I have his body now?

Minne:

Really? That's where your mind is right now?

--Plays Ending 3--

Guide:

Das Spiel verfügt über fünf Enden von denen vier durch das Spielen erreicht werden können. Das fünfte Ende dient als Platzhalter sollte im Spiel etwas schief laufen, dass der Spieler trotz dessen zu einem Ende hingewiesen wird.

Ende 1 – Ignorance: Das „gute“ Ende. Die Voraussetzungen für dieses Ende sind einfach da es keine wirklichen Punkterestriktionen hat. Solange in Kapitel 6 die in den Träumen gesammelten Punkte unter 60 sind und die Variable truthseeing in Kapitel 5 nicht auf wahr gesetzt wurde, ist dies eins der zwei Enden, welche der Spieler erhalten kann.

Wähle in Kapitel 6 nachdem Minne sich weigert dem Spieler die Wahrheit zu sagen die Option „You have a point.“ aus und dieses Ende wird erreicht.

Ende 2 – Searching: Das schlechte Ende. Hat dieselben Voraussetzungen wie Ende 1. Wähle in Kapitel 6 nachdem Minne sich weigert dem Spieler die Wahrheit zu sagen die Option „How can I accept this!“ aus und dieses Ende wird erreicht.

Ende 3 – Truth: Das wahre gute Ende. Die Voraussetzungen für dieses Ende sind nun komplexer. 60 Punkte und die aktive Variable truthseeing sind notwendig. Sind diese Anforderungen erfüllt spielt dieses Ende automatisch ab.

Ende 4 – Abyss: Das geheime Schlechte Ende. Die Voraussetzungen für dieses Ende sind es alle Punkte, die es möglich sind zu bekommen erhalten werden. Trifft dies zu spielt dieses Ende automatisch ab.

Hier eine Anleitung wie alle Punkte erreicht werden können.

Optionen in Träumen können 5-10 Punkte pro Option besitzen

In Kapitel 2 wähle im ersten Traum die folgenden Optionen: Visit [10P] – Behaviour [10P] (Reunion [5P]) – Exhaustion [10P] (Worry [5P]). (30 Punkte gewonnen)

In Kapitel 3 denke über die Blicke im Unterricht nach. Im dritten Traum wähle nun die Optionen: Headaches [5P]/Dreams [5P] – Odd lesson [10P] (gibt keine Punkte wenn nicht darüber nachgedacht wurde) – old friend [5P]. (20 Punkte gewonnen)

In Kapitel 4 wähle im dritten Traum die folgenden Optionen: Consistency [5P]/Coma aftereffects [5P] – Spacing out [5P]/Habits [5P] – Own research [5P]/Own events [5P] (15 Punkte gewonnen)

In Kapitel 5, wenn bereits mehr als 40 Punkte besitzt wird die Variable truthseeing auf true gesetzt. Wähle im vierten Traum nun die folgenden Optionen: Weather [5P]/Uneasiness [5P] – Answers [5P]/Secrecy [5P] – Confusion [5P]/Regret [5P]. (15 Punkte gewonnen)
